

Kicking Kaiser Bill

An employer having large interests recently admitted, after some questioning, that war conditions were cutting down his profits and his overhead expense was increasing. He explained that, literally speaking, he was allowed to be called the owner, and for this privilege he was expected to pay the taxes. Then came a good strong healthy laugh, and as the employer's fist came down on the desk he exclaimed, "That's all right, business will get along some way, we have got to win the war first."

There are many big men just like this employer who are giving their dollars and sons to the cause of Liberty. This is the spirit that places America on a par with her allied friends.

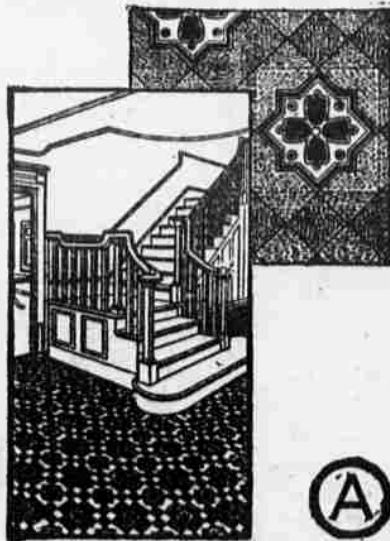

Every American is kicking, but kicking in the wrong way to suit Kaiser Bill, because all the kicks are directed towards Berlin, and the "kickers" are wearing one of those "I told you so" smiles.

Swat the fellow who kicks for the Kaiser by telling you to eat meat on meatless days and wheat on wheatless days. If you don't get him, he will be sure to get you.

Crandall Bros. are ready to swat the Kaiser in any way we can and we are here to sell you Groceries and Meat and all kinds of good things to eat on as close a margin as possible.

THE ENEMY WE MUST MEET

By William Allen White

(Mr. White, editor, author and King of the war and all its many angles while on an extended visit to the various battle lines of the Allied armies.)

Back of the German lines every ounce of food is conserved, and distributed with fairly equitable precision; every yard of cloth is numbered and is entered into the war strength of the empire. Every pennyweight of German coal is handled with scientific care, and the one end and aim of all this autocratic control of food and clothing and heat is the winning of the war. There is no other purpose in the German mind. Every German mark is a German soldier; every grain of gold is doing its full share to work out that indomitable purpose.

Here in America we must realize that the war will not be won on any front, but in our own hearts. This is a clash of civilizations. We must develop in our hearts a democratic purpose as strong and as carefully directed as this autocratic purpose of Germany. We, too, must make soldiers of our corn stalks, make defenders of our wool and cotton and silk, make every pound of coal an American pound, and we must make bullets of our pennies. If we fail to develop this democratic purpose in the eye to eye, knee to knee, hand to hand, struggle on the front, which, after all, only reflects the strength of our conviction, then our civilization will go down. To fail to support our soldiers with ammunition, with food, with clothing, with coal, will weaken them for the great conflict at the great moment, and that weakening will come from our hearts at home. It will come if we are slow with our financial support of the men. The Liberty Loan furnishes us with the only way we home-stayers can practically show our purpose. Our patriotism will be measured by our performance toward the Liberty Loan. What we lend to our country in this time of need will measure our love of the freedom our fathers bought. It is at stake. The autocratic purpose of Germany, iron willed and yet unbroken, aimed at world conquest is threatening us. What is freedom worth to you? It is worth what you lend to your government in this hour of its awful need.

She Has Other Troubles.

The reason why a woman with three or four children seldom gets a divorce is because she hasn't time to waste on thinking about the things she shouldn't think about.—Cincinnati Enquirer.
